Wien, 20 November 2024

Dear parents and legal guardians,
Dear pupils,

As Executive City Councillor for Education and Director of the Vienna Board of Education, we care deeply about the education and future of children and young people. School life is varied, vibrant and busy for everyone involved. It can be quite challenging, too. Therefore, we want to empower and support schools in Vienna. Your school VS Braunhubergasse is one of them.

In the new school year 2024/25, 15 schools in Vienna start the programme named "Das Wiener Bildungsversprechen" (The City of Vienna's Promise of Education). We are very happy that your school VS Braunhubergasse is part of the programme.

What does this mean for you, your child and the school?

- Everyone involved in school life gets support: pupils, teachers and head teachers. However, the focus is on the children and young people for whom we want to create a motivating, appreciative and constructive learning environment.
- With the Wiener Bildungsversprechen your child's school can improve further. We can achieve this aim when head teachers and teachers work together to broaden their knowledge. For that reason, the school gets individual support and professional advice.
- We also support the teachers, for example, with various further education offers. They should be able to focus even more on the children to make learning easier and the atmosphere in the classrooms even friendlier.
- Your child's school should be the best place to learn. The Wiener Bildungsversprechen can help improve school life and the school's environment by providing the school with additional resources.

It is a pleasure that you will be part of the Wiener Bildungsversprechen. All pupils in Vienna should have the same opportunities to get an excellent education. We are convinced that we can achieve this aim together.

Best regards,

Christoph Wiederkehr
Deputy Mayor and
Executive City Councillor for Education

Arno Langmeier
Interim Director of the Vienna Board of Education
